Prov. Sounds Concern. - Prof. Soule who has been teaching a simpley school through the winter gave no exhibition of his Newport & Taunton olasses at the Lecture Room of the Congregational Oburch 145; evening. About seventy singers came down from Taunton, which in addition to the fice school here gave an opportunity for rendering some of the grand old chorusses, and not a fow new ones in a suret masterly style. Indeed we have selders heard so many voices so entirely is accord, and so effectively combined as on this occasion. The sloging throughout showed that there had been thorough drilling and good dieci-

The dualts and quartettes were most of themvery excellent, and did we know the names of all the performers we should be pleased to give the credit to those to whom it more especially belongs Still, where all did so well it would be difficult to disorbainate, or make comparisons.

At the class of the concert the company repaired to Atmory Hall where refreshments had been prepared. After the collation there was social enjoyment until near morning when our Taunton friends, proceeded to the depot and took the early tralu home. Their visit here will be remembered by those whose acquistance they made, with great with immense success by Downings 71st Regiment Band. Composed by Carl Fanst.

The songs are, Samathing Sweet to Think of, by John P. Ordway, M. D.; and Found Dead, sung by Mr. Barnabee. This is the ballad of the Outoast formerly sang by the Eurobinsons, but set to new Music. Ditson and Co , publishers, 277 Wasbloglou Bt., Baston.

Captain Fengue, of U. S. revenue cutter Paw toxet, who has obtained a farlough of six months to enable him to take command of one of the new boats on the Brittol and New York line, has been presented with an elegant gold chronometer by the underwriters of Bearon for his cervices in rellaving vessels in distress.

The Parisian complains rather delefelly that his capital is given up to the foreigner. The foreign er complains that be finde the Parisian rather extortionate, and the Parisian completes that the foreigner comes to him too frequently in the guise of an English pict pocket-to seal his watch, his cost, bis embrells, and all that is his. If Paris complains, Parls also admires. One of the pickpookets, having stolen a watch in a cafe on the Butlevards, was good enough to take the works! out of the case, to return them to the pecket of the owner, who, overwhelmed with wonder at anch andacity, has written a little cessay on the anb ect .- [Pari: Letter.

At a concert lately given in Marceilles, the whiters, who were nearly all well known to each other, got late conversation, which at times became something more than audible. At length it roce to such a dispason that come happily inspired person despatched a little billet to the performers, Mddle, M. and M. R., who were then executing an exquisite morcean. It ran thus :-- The per formers are requested to play extremely plane, to order not to distorb the conversation." The billet was passed from hand to hand; the speritus reboks was accepted in good part, and silence was
